

for community leaders, elected officials, and advocates for sustainable transport

NJ Waterfront Light Rail Study Tour

Saturday, September 13, 2008, 1:30 to 5pm via New York Waterway ferry

hosted by

Institute for Rational Urban Mobility, Inc.

Ashok Gupta, Air & Energy Program Director, Natural Resources Defense Council

US Congressman Jerrold Nadler

NY State Senator Liz Krueger

NY State Assemblymember Richard Gottfried

NYC Councilmember Gale Brewer

The study tour will begin promptly at 1:30pm at the West 39th Street Ferry Terminal on the Hudson River, with a brief discussion of NJ Transit's waterfront light rail line. The tour will proceed by ferry to the new Weehawken terminal, transfer to light rail, and will include several stops en route to Jersey City.

The tour will give New Yorkers a first hand experience with light rail and the opportunity to learn how this system was realized. Key transit officials will participate in the tour.

There is no charge for the tour, but capacity is limited, so make your reservations early: RSVP by Wednesday, September 10, 2008 to info@vision42.org